

1250 HOURS HEAVY TURBOPROP MULTI CREW CERTIFIED CONVAIR 580 FIRST OFFICER

PROGRAM START DATE

- December 27, 2014

HOURS

- 1250 as a First Officer

PROGRAM DETAILS

- Eagle Jet International is scheduling a class designed for selected pilots to complete a program including the ICAO heavy turboprop multicrew certified Conqair 580 type rating followed by 1250 hours of flight as a First Officer.
- Upon program completion, pilots will exceed the 500 hour requirement on a multicrew certified turbine aircraft required by many airlines as well as aviation authorities such as the European EASA to be issued a Full ATP license. The MTOW of the Conqair 580 is 26.3 tons (58,140 pounds) which is about 5 times more than the minimum MTOW of turboprop aircraft categorized as heavy. The Conqair 580 seats 52 passengers.
- While attending the program and applying for employment with various airlines, pilots keep building up quality airline time and experience which makes their applications more attractive to airlines. Even though there is a chance of employment with the same partner airline upon completion of the 1250 hours, this cannot be guaranteed ahead of time.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE

- Approval based on documents. Window of application is now open.
- Airline Indoctrination leading to License Validation and ICAO Convair 580 Type Rating in South America.
- Depending on the base assigned to the pilot upon completion of the Airline Indoctrination in South America, pilots fly during passenger and/or cargo operations and are based in South America or South Africa.
- Duration to complete 1250 hours once starting line flying is about less than 2 years.
